

Our Commitment

One experience. Two leaders. A shared commitment to the work ahead.

We're entering the M.V.P. Accelerator Powered by Athleadership Arena with work of our own to do. Real life will happen. Calendars will fill. Priorities will shift. We may miss a check-in or lose our rhythm.

We're not committing to perfect. We're committing to return.

TOGETHER, WE COMMIT TO:

- Show up honestly. Bring the real moments into the work, not just the polished ones.
- Do our own work. We're both here to strengthen how we lead.
- Stay curious. Listen before solving, defending or judging.
- Give honest perspective. Tell the truth about what we see and stay open to what we may not see ourselves.
- Make room for the work. Especially when things get busy.
- Choose connection over perfection. If we lose the rhythm, we'll reset and take the next rep.

You'll each complete a 180 Reflection, giving each other another perspective on what's showing up and what changes.

Conditioning isn't built by getting every moment right. It's built by what we repeatedly choose to come back to.

We're in.

The Starting Line

Your first Athleader + Player-Coach conversation

30 minutes to set your intentions, name the win, establish your rhythm, and get clear on what you each need.

5 MIN

ARRIVE

What are you walking into this experience carrying right now?

One word is enough. Share more if you want to.

10 MIN

NAME THE WIN

Athleader:

90 days from now, what do you want to be different in how you lead?

Player-Coach:

If that change is happening, what might you notice?

Then switch.

Player-Coach:

What do you want to strengthen in how you lead over these 90 days?

Athleader:

If that change is happening, what might I experience differently?

5 MIN

GET HONEST

When things get busy, what are you each most likely to stop doing first?

No judgment. Know your pattern.

What will help you come back?

5 MIN

NAME WHAT YOU NEED

What do you need from each other for this experience to matter?

And one agreement:

Can we give each other honest perspective, even when it may be easier not to?

5 MIN

SET THE RHYTHM

When will we check in?

Put your next conversation on the calendar now.

Then decide:

If we lose the rhythm, how will we call each other back in?

That's your reset.

Choose connection. Take the next rep. Keep conditioning.
